November 21 - 25, 2020 - Valencia, Spain

   This special track has the goal to discuss academic research and practical findings on all aspects of knowledge management and innovation in e-government. It will provide a global forum for the investigation and reporting of diverse issues that affect public organisations and also the citizens.

   Knowledge management (KM) is increasingly being recognized in the public sector and in relation with e-government implementations. Governments and public organizations deal with information and knowledge on a large scale, citizen data, businesses, society, the markets, the environment, regulations, policies, and others.

   Original research contributions are solicited, which focus on knowledge management and innovation in e-government and authors are invited to contribute with research papers, case studies and demonstrations that present original scientific results, methodological aspects, concepts, and approaches in the multidisciplinary field of knowledge management.

   Topics include, but not limited to:

- KM Concepts and Methodologies
- Strategies to Implement KM in the Public Sector
