

Silvio Semanjski

Silvio Semanjski is an aerospace specialist with more than 20 years of experience in the domain, having gained professional experience mainly in the research and development in air traffic management. His background is aeronautical engineering where he holds a Master of Science degree.

He is the founder of SEAL Aeronatica S.L., an aerospace company in Barcelona that specialized in developing solutions in autonomous flight, urban air mobility, and smart city domains.

He is currently the project coordinator of H2020 AURORA project, which is launched to address key technological developments for UAM operations.”