Proper Indexing as a Multi-Level Challenge

About RG: a DOI from RG is provided only for preprints and technical reports, but not for already published peer-reviewed papers (articles and inproceedings); in case of doubt, use Zenodo or figshare.
 About arXiv: you can submit a previously published peer-reviewed paper to arXiv, as long as you provide TeX sources and clearly reference the original publication details, using its "journal reference" field (even for conference proceedings).
