

Prof. Jerome Dinet

Jerome Dinet is a Full Professor of Developmental Psychology and the Director of the Industrial Chair “Behavior” in the University of Lorraine. Since January 2025, he is the Mission Officer in « Artificial Intelligence » for all domains in the University of Lorraine (research, teaching-learning, administration, clinical activity).

He has supervised over 10 Ph.D. theses on human behavior and the cognitive processes involved when individuals with specific needs interact with technology, including robots, artificial intelligence, tablets, virtual reality, and augmented reality.

He has authored more than 100 scientific papers and books on these topics. Professor Dinet has also held visiting professor positions at New York University, Uppsala University, Nagaoka Institute of Technology, Nagasaki University, and Tohoku University.