

Mr. Motoyoshi Sekiya

Senior Director Data & Security Research Laboratory Fujitsu

He entered Fujitsu Laboratories in 1990 and engaged in research for high speed optical transmission systems. From 1995 to 2010 he works had been developed optical transceiver module, WDM system and network designing software.

From 2010 to 2015, he works for Fujitsu labs of America and lead the research group in optical transmission system and SDN/NFV.

From 2015 to 2020 leading network research for optical, wireless and SDN/NFV. Currently his interest is secure networking technology such as data exchange network utilize blockchain

He has served as technical program committee member of OFC/NFOEC, Globecom , ICCVE, ONDM, BRAINS AICT etc..

He received B.S. and M.E degree from Keio University 1988 1990 Respectively